

What is the Human Biology Program?

The Human Biology Program offers an interdisciplinary approach to understanding human beings from biological, computational, environmental, medical and physical perspectives. This 5-year Ph.D. program was established in 2011 to promote highly motivated and talented students to become global leaders in academic, business, and government organizations. We welcome applicants from any scientific disciplines.

We offer students an extensive range of opportunities.

Globalism

Financial support

Travel overseas

Internship

Research

Dormitory

Biological Sciences

Medical Sciences

Human Biology

Computational Sciences

Materials Sciences

Call for Ph.D. students

MEXT Program for Leading Graduate Schools

Ph.D. Program in Human Biology

— Entrance Examination —

2021 August

(2022 April Enrollment)

Application Guideline ● Open at the end of April
Application Period ● July 1~16
Examination ● August 19 and 20
Location ● Tsukuba

2022 February

(Enrollment for 2022 April / October)

Application Guideline ● Open at the end of April
Application Period ● December 1~17
Examination ● 2022 January 31 and February 1
Location ● Tsukuba, Ho Chi Minh City (Vietnam)
Jakarta (Indonesia), Taipei (Taiwan)

(See details on our website)

Briefing Session for Entrance Examination

- April 17, Saturday 13:00-14:00
- June 12, Saturday 13:00-14:00
- November (tentative)

Clinical Lecture Room A & live stream
Clinical Lecture Room A & live stream
Clinical Lecture Room A & live stream

(See details on our website)

